

SNAP Processing Information

Timeframes
SNAP with Expedited Processing	For initial applications that meet the criteria for expedited processing, benefits must be issued by the 7th calendar day from the application date. If the 7th day falls on a weekend or holiday for SNAP, then it will be due the next business day.
SNAP	For initial application, benefits must be issued by the 30th calendar day from the application date. Day 1 always starts the day after the application was received. If the 30th day falls on a weekend or holiday for SNAP, then it will be due the next business day. SNAP applications will remain pending until an eligibility determination is made. When a SNAP application is delayed past 30 days due to agency or client delay, a notice will be generated and sent to the SNAP household. SNAP applications in pending status for greater than 60 calendar days must remain pending and should not be denied after the 60 calendar days.
Timely RRRs	An eligibility determination must be made by the last day of the certification period.
Untimely RRRs	An eligibility determination must be made ASAP - no later than 30 days from the date received.
Late RRRs	An eligibility determination must be made within 30 days from the date received (not just benefits issued).
Received after the cert. period expires	Follow timelines for new applications; expedited processing criteria must be applied.

RRR Processing Checklist

Did you allow time to...?

Schedule and conduct an interview, if required.

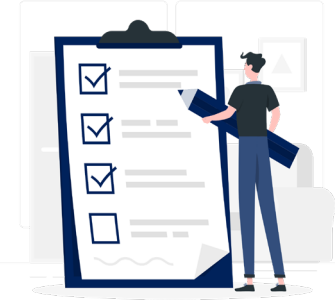

Request verification:

Customers must be given 10+1 days for VCLs. Make sure to always review if information can be verified via Collateral Contact, Interface, or Work Number.

Act on verifications received:

Make sure to review if information has been submitted.

Process case in CBMS.

Example:

James returned his family's RRR for SNAP on the 8th of the month after the certification period expired.

If James's household meets expedited processing criteria, you will need to process his RRR by the 15th if he returned it on the 8th.

Accessibility: This document is designed to comply with the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) 2.1 AA standard. If you experience difficulty accessing the content or have questions regarding the process, please contact SOC_StaffDevelopment@state.co.us for assistance.

